

PRESS RELEASE

13.02.2006

Geokosmos won The Trade Leaders' Club International Trophy for Quality. Let's keep that up!

The Editorial Office and the Trade Leaders' Club have nominated Geokosmos for International Trophy for Quality as the best company in this area of the last year. Arsenio Pardo Rodriguez, president of the Editorial Office and secretary general of the Trade Leaders' Club says, in his letter: "This award was created to encourage the concept of the organizational quality, fostering a company to achieve the perfection level".

Although Geokosmos has long been working under the Quality Management System, certified by the Quality Certificate ISO 9001, this is one more proof of the quality services, rendered by the company and their compliance to the European standards.

Lyudmila Matveeva, chief of the Quality Management System Department believes: "Editorial Office and the Trade Leaders' club acknowledgement of the Geokosmos quality achievements is the credit of the whole team. We are always on the move to improve our level, as our strategy priority is to meet our clients' demands and expectations".
